Franklin County

- Resource Name: Higher Cause Residences

Website: <http://www.highercauseresidences.com/>

Address: 105 Ridgewood Road, Youngsville, North Carolina, 27596

Map: <https://maps.app.goo.gl/kuVLddTLLMkk81Ft7>

Phone #: (908) 812-4677

Services offered: 24-Hour Residential Support: Specialized supervision in a structured "home" environment rather than a clinical facility. Individualized Care Plans: Support with Activities of Daily Living (ADLs) including hygiene, meal preparation, and cleaning. Community Integration: They partner with organizations like the Special Olympics and Habitat for Humanity to help residents with TBI foster social relationships and teamwork skills.

Ambulatory Care: Their primary focus is on adult residents who are ambulatory (able to walk/move) but require high-intensity supervision and cognitive support.

Referral required? Primary Diagnosis: A documented Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) that occurred on or after the age of 18. Injuries occurring before 18 are usually routed through the Innovations Waiver. Level of Care: The individual must meet the "Skilled Nursing Facility" or "Specialty Rehabilitation Hospital" level of care, meaning their needs are too complex for a standard private home setting. Referral Source: Referrals must typically come through Alliance Health (the Managed Care Organization for Wake and surrounding counties). Medical Assessment: A recent "FL2" form (a North Carolina state document) signed by a physician is required to confirm the medical necessity for 24-hour residential support.

Payments accepted: NC TBI Waiver, State-Funded Services

Map: <https://maps.app.goo.gl/5bWqKKWb2nmdSjyY9>
Phone #: (704) 285-8207
Services offered: Speech-Language Pathology (SLP): Their TBI specialty is strongest here. They focus on cognitive-communication disorders (memory, attention, problem-solving) and swallowing disorders (dysphagia) that often follow a brain injury. Occupational Therapy (OT): They help survivors relearn "Activities of Daily Living" (ADLs) like dressing, cooking, and home safety, using the patient's actual home environment as the "clinic." Physical Therapy (PT): Focused on mobility, balance, and vestibular (inner ear/dizziness) issues common after head trauma.
- Referral required? No, a strict TBI diagnosis is not required to receive therapy from them. Functional Need: You can qualify for their services based on any neurological condition or functional deficit (such as a stroke, brain tumor, or post-concussion syndrome) that requires physical, occupational, or speech therapy. Physician Referral: If you are using insurance (especially Medicare), you will need a doctor to sign off on a "Plan of Care" that explains why you need therapy.
- Payments accepted: Medicare: They are a Medicare provider, but a physician's order is required to begin therapy. Private Insurance: They generally accept various private plans, but it is best to verify since coverage for home-based therapy can vary. TBI Waiver/Medicaid: While they are a neuro-specialty group, many of these specialized mobile groups in NC work with the Alliance Health.

Services offered: Cognitive Rehabilitation: One-on-one therapy focused on retraining the brain in areas like memory, impulse control, and executive function. Specialized Residential Support: They offer 24-hour supervised living environments specifically for TBI survivors who require a high level of behavioral or medical monitoring. Resource Facilitation: A dedicated staff member helps coordinate the complex web of neurologists, therapists, and state agencies involved in a survivor's long-term recovery. Alternative Family Living (AFL): This program matches survivors with a highly trained "host family" to provide a stable, long-term home environment integrated into the community.

Referral required? Documented TBI: There must be medical proof of a Traumatic Brain Injury (caused by an external force like a car accident, fall, or assault). Note that "Non-Traumatic" injuries (like strokes or tumors) usually do not qualify for the TBI Waiver, though Still Family may serve them under different I/DD programs. Age of Injury: The injury must have occurred on or after the individual's 18th birthday (for the TBI Waiver) or after age 22 (for other adult state-funded programs). Residency: The individual must live in a county covered by their partner LME/MCOs (most commonly Alliance Health for the Charlotte/Mecklenburg and Raleigh areas).

Payments accepted: NC TBI Waiver: They are a primary provider for the specialized TBI Waiver (managed by MCOs like Alliance Health). NC Innovations Waiver: They accept this waiver for individuals with intellectual or developmental disabilities. Medicaid (Tailored Plans): They work extensively with North Carolina's Medicaid system for behavioral and long-term care. Private Pay: They accept out-of-pocket payments for services not covered by state plans.

Map: <https://maps.app.goo.gl/gXEyivPkvecjdnwZ9>

Their services include: Care Management: Helping you coordinate medical appointments, housing, and social services. Peer Support: Facilitating groups (like L.O.B.I.S.) for survivors and their loved ones to connect with people who share their experiences. Resource Advocacy: Helping survivors navigate the complex systems of benefits, community resources, and long-term planning after a TBI. Educational Programs: They host "Power Hour" discussions to help survivors understand the neurological and emotional impacts of their brain injury.

Referral required? No

Payments accepted: Because they are an advocacy and support organization rather than a medical clinic, they do not generally bill insurance for these specific supportive services. Funding Model: They are a non-profit organization. Their support services are often funded through grants, donations, or community initiatives rather than standard insurance copays. Clinical Services: If you are seeking their counseling services, you would need to ask them directly if they accept your specific insurance, as they may have a separate billing structure for mental health sessions.

Cleveland County

- Resource Name: Life Enrichment Center
Website: <https://lifeenrichmentcenter.org/>
Address: 110 Life Enrichment Boulevard, Shelby, NC 28150
Map: <https://maps.app.goo.gl/MnhbfPAhyhyJFHSu8>
Phone #: (704) 457-0126
Services offered: High-Acuity Medical Care: Unlike some social-only day centers, LEC has Total Healthcare Nurses on-site who can manage complex medical needs, monitor vitals, and administer medications—critical for those managing the secondary effects of a brain injury. Therapeutic Services: The center offers access to Physical, Occupational, and Speech therapies. For TBI survivors, these services focus on maintaining mobility, improving cognitive communication, and enhancing daily living skills. Behavioral Support: The staff is trained in "behavior acceptance" and validation, techniques originally pioneered for dementia but highly effective for TBI-related emotional regulation and behavioral changes. Sensory & Cognitive Engagement: They offer specialized activities including Music Therapy and Horticultural Therapy (featuring a greenhouse and garden), which provide low-impact cognitive stimulation and sensory integration.
- Referral required? The most unique requirement for this center is the Mandatory Complimentary Trial Visit. Because the center follows a Medical Model (Adult Day Health), the following clinical documents are required: Physician's Medical Examination Report: A state-mandated form (often the DAAS-101 or similar) must be completed and signed by a licensed physician within 30 days of enrollment. TBI/Medical Diagnosis: While a "TBI-only" rule doesn't exist, your physician must document your diagnosis and functional limitations (e.g., needing help with at least two Activities of Daily Living like eating, walking, or toileting) to justify the need for care. Medication Orders: If the participant requires medication administration during the day, a signed order from a doctor is required for the on-site nurses. TB Skin Test: Proof of a negative Tuberculosis (TB) test is typically required by North Carolina law for all adult day care participants. If you are not paying "Private Pay" (out-of-pocket), you need a formal referral from a third-party payer: Medicaid (CAP/DA or I/DD Waivers): You must have an active case manager who submits a "Service Authorization" to the center. Veterans Administration (VA): You must contact your VA Social Worker to request a referral for "Adult Day Health Care" services. The VA will then send an authorization directly to Life Enrichment Center.
- Payments accepted: Medicaid Waivers: They accept CAP/DA (Community Alternatives Program for Disabled Adults) and 1915(i) services. Veterans Administration (VA): They are a contracted provider for VA community care benefits. Private Pay: Daily rates are available for those not using government assistance. Long-Term Care Insurance: Most private LTC policies cover adult day health services. Donations/Grants: As a non-profit, they sometimes have scholarship funds or sliding-scale options for those who do not qualify for Medicaid but cannot afford the full private rate.

Map: <https://maps.app.goo.gl/1HkSGZyd7j8fApu76>
Phone #: 980-335-0778
Services offered: Activity-Based Therapy (ABT): Their core service includes patterned motor activity, task-specific functional training, and targeted activation of non-innervated muscles to build strength below the level of injury. Neuro-Fitness Specialists: Every session is guided by specialists who provide hands-on facilitation, focusing on "Neuro Fitness" rather than just basic physical therapy. Advanced Rehab Modalities: The facility is equipped with specialized tools including Functional Electrical Stimulation (FES), Transcutaneous Spinal Stimulation (TSS), and Neuromuscular Electrical Stimulation (NMES). Aquatic Exercise: They offer specialized water-based sessions that utilize the low-impact environment to help with balance, gait training, and weight-bearing exercises. Specialized Staff Support: Their team includes a Doctor of Occupational Therapy (OTD) who is certified in dry needling and ergonomic assessments to help manage spasticity and daily living challenges.
Referral required? BTI is a community-access facility, meaning the path to starting care is often less formal than at a major hospital. Complimentary Consultation: The primary requirement to start is a free consultation where a Neuro Fitness Specialist reviews your history and current functional goals. Functional Goal Screening: During the intake, you will undergo a "Goal Check" to identify the real-world tasks that matter most to you, such as transfers, stairs, or handwriting. Medical Documentation: While you may not always need a formal physician's referral to inquire, you will generally need to provide your TBI diagnosis and any relevant medical clearance for intensive physical activity. Peer Support Access: Survivors and their families can join their monthly physical disability peer support group to connect with others in the Charlotte area dealing with similar injuries.
Payments accepted: Waivers (NC TBI / Innovations): BTI is generally not a direct "Waiver Provider" for long-term residential or habilitation services. This means you usually cannot use your Waiver hours to pay for your time there in the same way you'd pay for a home health aide. Standard Medicaid/Medicare: They generally do not accept standard Medicaid or Medicare as primary payment. These government programs usually only pay for "traditional" therapy in a hospital or medical office, and they often stop paying once you reach a "plateau." Accepted Payments: Their primary funding sources are Workers' Compensation, Private Pay (Out-of-pocket), and some Commercial/Private Insurances (like BCBS or Aetna) for specific evaluations. Scholarships & Grants: Because BTI is a "gap-filler" (for when insurance runs out), many families use outside grants to pay for their sessions. Victoria's Victory Foundation and Be Perfect Foundation are two organizations that frequently provide scholarships specifically for people to attend BTI. Walking with Anthony also provides grants for this type of activity-based therapy.

Residential Spectrum: Their housing options range from high-intensity Intermediate Care Facilities (ICF) to independent living apartments and six licensed supported living facilities. Adult Day Services: They manage multiple adult day care and day service facilities that promote social engagement, vocational training, and cognitive stimulation. Therapeutic Riding Program: Located on their farm grounds, they offer a therapeutic riding program that provides physical sports therapy benefits and confidence building, which can be highly effective for TBI rehabilitation. Vocational Integration: They assist residents with community integration, which may include finding jobs at local industries or participating in specialized vocational programs.

Referral required? LME/MCO Referral: You cannot typically self-refer for waiver-funded slots. You must go through your regional Local Management Entity/Managed Care Organization (LME/MCO). Medical Documentation: You must provide a formal Traumatic Brain Injury diagnosis confirmed by a physician or a neuropsychological evaluation. This documentation must prove the injury was caused by an "external force" (as opposed to an internal cause like a stroke). Assessments: PCGH and the LME/MCO will require a TBI Assessment (or a similar tool like the SIS or SNAP) to determine your "Level of Care." This ensures you meet the medical necessity for residential support.
