Quality Improvement Projects: Confidential Peer Reviews

GQIC members are offering a Confidential Peer Review process for providers interested in receiving feedback from the committee on how they can improve the development, tracking, and reporting of their annual Quality Improvement Projects (QIPs).

Confidential Peer Review means that when a network provider requests a review of the QIP by the committee, Trillium Health Resources will remove the identifying information of the provider. This enables the committee to review the QIP impartially and gives the provider who submitted the QIP the security of being anonymous.

When receiving the results of your QIP, the process for requesting this review will be included in your correspondence from Trillium.
